SCHOOL BOARD "GETS" OFFICIALS

North Charleroi Directors Collect Taxes, Establishing Precedent by Methods

DELINQUENTS FORCED TO PAY

North Charleroi school district has established a precedent in the collection of school taxes and incidentally has thrown the people of the borough into a furor of excitement. Approximately $1,500 has been received from delinquents, which is doing pretty well for a borough with only 2,000 population.

As the term of school was drawing to a close the board found its finances were running low. Upon making an appeal to the tax collector, the usual number of delinquents were found.

Ordinary efforts failed to bring in the desired money, and the board passed a resolution to collect by legal procedure, and turned the tax books over to Justice of the Peace Harry W. Scott to enter suit. The resolution with the motion was as follows:

"Upon motion of Caseber, seconded by Stober, it is resolved that the tax collector be authorized to enter suit in the name of the school district for the collection of delinquent taxes in all cases where a summons can be served upon the persons owing the unpaid tax, in accordance with section 503 of the school code of 1911.

J. A. Nutt, President, Attest, S. W. Sharpneck, Secretary."

The resolution was dated June 17. Justice of the Peace Scott sent out his summons and the fun began. Among the delinquents were caught prominent borough officials, including two members of the school board and members of the borough council. It was a good strong strike and accomplished what the school board was after. The board's financial stringency was relieved and the delinquent taxes, which were for 1912, 1913 and 1914 were practically all collected. Thursday was set as the day for hearings before Justice Scott, but rather than appear, nearly every one paid his taxes and the costs of $2.98 each in addition.

EAST BETHLEHEM TOWNSHIP IS NOW OF FIRST CLASS

Washington county commissioners Thursday signed a proclamation advancing East Bethlehem township the smallest in the county in point of area, to the rank of first-class. The population, now 3,500, has been growing rapidly as the result of the development of coal properties. It is the first township in the county to be raised to the first-class.

For Alienated Affections.

B. Lee Miller of Beallsville has filed a suit for $10,000 damages against U. Grant Hill of the same section for the alleged alienation of the affections of his wife by the defendant. He avers that the defendant poisoned the mind of Elizabeth Miller against the plaintiff, and persuaded her to desert the plaintiff, the husband of Elizabeth Miller.

AGED PEDESTRIAN IS DROWNED IN KILLED BY AUTO PECULIAR MANNER

John W. Scott Run Down Foreigner Escapes Police While Walking Home to Belle Vernon By Fleeing Toward River And Loses Life

DRIVER OF MACHINE UNKNOWN BODY FOUND; STORY TOLD

While walking along the Pricedale road a mile and one-half from Monessen, John W. Scott, aged 79 years, of Belle Vernon, was run down and killed by an automobile driven by an unknown between 7 and 8 o'clock Thursday evening. The accident was witnessed by a party of five boys from a distance, and the body was found at about 8:15 o'clock by Tony Metz of Belle Vernon who was driving his automobile along the road.

John Roberts, one of the boys who saw the accident tells the story. He relates that the aged pedestrians was walking slowly when the automobile approached at a rapid rate of speed. The man was struck and apparently knocked under the machine. The driver hesitated a moment and then drove on hurriedly.

Both of Scott's arms and both legs were broken, and his chest was crushed. His cane was found 30 feet distance. The body was taken to Monessen and Deputy Coroner H. W. Day notified. He will conduct a rigid investigation.

Scott, who was inclined to take long walks, left the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Byers, with whom he lived at about 8 o'clock Thursday morning. Until after the accident nothing further was heard of him. It is supposed that he was on his way home to Belle Vernon when the tragedy occurred.

Scott came to the Monongahela valley from England about one year ago. He is survived by six children. Funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon from the Byers' home in Belle Vernon. Interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

FORMER CHARLEROI YOUNG WOMAN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. R. T. Wheeler Sustains Serious Injuries When Machine Goes Over Embankment in California.

News of Mrs. R. T. Wheeler, of California state, who prior to her marriage was Miss Anna Sample of Charleroi, will regret to learn that she met with a serious accident near her home. About a week ago Mrs. Wheeler, who is a well known friend of the Charleroi community, was enjoying an automobile ride in Mr. Wheeler's big six machine, taking in the sights of the country. In coming down a steep grade, Mr. Wheeler lost control of the machine with the result that it skidded over an embankment, turned turtle and all the occupants of the car were more or less injured. Mrs. Wheeler sustaining a fractured skull and a broken collar bone. Word of the accident was received by Frank Sample her brother of Charleroi, who just returned home last week from the Panama-Pacific Exposition at California.

FLEAS FIGHT AT LOCAL CARNIVAL

Belgian and German Insects With Kuntz's Show Mix It Until Separated

MARDI GRAS DRAWS CROWDS

Considerable excitement was caused Thursday evening at the Moose Mardi Gras when more than 300 fleas in Prof. Kuntz European fleas circus, one of the feature shows of the Johnny J. Jones Carnival and Exposition shows indulged in a battle royal. Under ordinary circumstances Prof. Kuntz, being a German, employs only German fleas in his circus. They are larger than the average fleas, have greater ability and agility and altogether make the best kind of performers. However when the war broke out in Europe, it became difficult for Prof. Kuntz to secure as many German fleas as he desired and it was necessary to fill the depleted German ranks with Belgian fleas. It is said the Germans never took kindly to the introduction of the Belgians and more than one free-for-all has taken place between the two factions. Thursday night reinforcements for the German fleas having been secured by Prof. Kuntz, and the augmented German forces started in to wipe out what remained of the Belgians. Prof. Kuntz proved himself an impartial neutral by going to the rescue of the Belgians and now he has them separated from the Germans by a fine wire screen.

The Mardi Gras continues to draw record breaking crowds and the committee of the Moose anticipate that the week will prove the biggest financial success the local order has ever enjoyed. In clean shows, good order, up-to-date business methods, the personnel of his associates, the character and calibre of the attractions and in other details Johnny J. Jones has met with the hearty approval of the people of Charleroi.

THE STANDARD BARREL

One small but important act of the last congress that has attracted little attention was the standardization of the American barrel. Beginning January 1 all barrels must contain 2000 cubic inches, that is when any thing is sold by the barrel measure, remarks the York Dispatch.

Cranberries alone are excepted from this rule. At present a citizen who orders a barrel of apples or some vegetables does not know exactly the amount he will receive unless he has seen the barrel before purchasing.

There is now no standard, although school children are taught how much a barrel holds and grow up to think in the figures they learn. But they find out the uncertainty of purchasing by the barrel later on.

The new law will help prevent the public from being short measured by unscrupulous dealers.

INTO THE HEART OF NATURE

On beautiful summer days such as we have recently been enjoying says the McKeesport News, the lure of the out-of-doors takes hold as at no other time of the year. People who have been cooped up to get into the fresh air. They venture from the accustomed prospect of brick and stone into the wide-spreading acres of green and woods and they realize what these valleys and their environment really is.

It is a welcome change, a tonic to the body and on inspiration to the soul. It means better health and a better view of life. We are more fortunate than many another community. Nature has lavished her bounties upon us. In a few minutes one may emerge from the crowded city in the country. We have not the ruggedness of the great mountain ranges but we have a combination of hill and pastoral views that cannot be surpassed. One need not be the owner of an automobile to enjoy the scenic beauties. The trolley cars take one wherever he may want to go. The few hours of leisure in the evening, the half holiday, may be turned into profit for body and mind with little trouble and little cost. The tired person needs change and here a great variety of change may be had in a few minutes. People hardly realize how they are blessed.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A peaceable man in a steel town of Pennsylvania came upon two youths fighting. "Let me beg of you," he earnestly besought, "to settle your dispute by arbitration. Each of you chose half a dozen friends to arbitrate."

Having seen the twelve arbitrators selected to the satisfaction of both sides, the man of peace went on his way rejoicing. Half an hour later he returned that way and was horrified to find the whole street fighting while in the distance police whistles could be heard blowing and police running to the spot from all quarters.

"Merciful Heavens! What's the matter now?" the peacemaker asked of an onlooker.

"Nonsense," said the man, "the arbitrators are fighting over the decision."

When the jury in a western court found the accused guilty of the crime charged the prisoner rose in the dock and dramatically exclaimed: "May heaven strike me dead if I am guilty!"

The judge waited a few minutes, and then said: "Prisoner at the bar, since Providence has not seen fit to interfere, the sentence of the court will now be pronounced."

AMONG THE THEATRES

LYRIC—CHARLEROI

On Monday the Lyric theatre program included a patriotic drama as its leading feature. The coming Saturday the Lyric will show "The King of Kaiser." This is a good war drama that comes widely advertised and well recommended to the Lyric. In addition the ever popular Charlie Chaplin will be featured in one of his wonderful comedies.

COYLE—CHARLEROI

An excellent program of moving pictures has been presented at the Coyle theatre during the past week and an equally good program has been booked for the coming week. On Monday "Wormwood", a play adapted from Marie Corelli's book of the same name was the attraction. On Tuesday Elsie Janis who is already a favorite with motion picture patrons although she has only been shown in a few pictures, was featured in "Berry in Search of a Thrill." Wednesday the attraction was "Fighting Bob". Thursday one of the best programs of the week was presented. The headline attraction was "The Best Man on the Case," a six part feature. King Baggott was featured in "A Strange Disappearance," on Thursday. Arrangement is being made of the attraction for Monday, "The Plunderer", with William Farnum in the leading role. On Tuesday will be featured "The Great Escape."

MAJESTIC—CHARLEROI

"A Mind in the Past" was the title of the eighth chapter of "The Plunderer" the thrilling serial picture featuring the title now at the Majestic theatre. It was shown on Thursday of this week to good sized crowds. "On the Vorges" was a descriptive film of picturesque France. "The Millionaire Baby" was a special offering that featured the West end program, it being a drama in the old parts. "The Sponder," which is shown as one of the best films of the day was a production of the week that attracted scores to the popular Fallowfield avenue house. "Who Pays?" was another good film. Next week on Monday "Vendetta," a five part picture adapted from Marie Corelli's novel of the same name, Cyrus Townsend Brady's story, "The Island of Regeneration" will be photographed among the features.

PALACE—CHARLEROI

An unusual story was portrayed in three splendid parts at the Palace theatre on Thursday of this week under the title of "The Greater Courage." In a sense it was a masterpiece and portrayed the way in which a true test is made, and how staunch womankind and mankind stood firm under trials. "The Fifth Commandment" was the title of the featuring Wednesday picture. It being a treatise of the way in which the commandment "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother" was obeyed. The picture was one of unusual parts that told a vivid story that of course turned out all right in the end. In two parts, "Tap, Tap, Tap" proved a worthy attraction on Thursday together with "Strength". On Wednesday in addition to "The Fifth Commandment" a two part picture, "Man and His Mother" was produced.

Shelf-Emptying is now in progress—a time when we clear out all the surplus unmindful of the cost or former selling price—by putting a price on everything that will make each individual article sell on sight to the first one who sees it—that's the way we quickly rid our stock of odd lots and surplus—there's a great big value-giving surprise in every department this year—for we are great believers in taking a loss—a big loss and let that loss end it by selling the merchandise picked out to sell, in half the time it would take to sell it at a higher price. ATTENDS ANTI-SALOON MEETING AT SEASHORE

Rev. W. G. Carl, pastor of the First Baptist church, has returned from the eastern part of the state where he went to attend the funeral of his mother. While in the east Rev. Carl took advantage of the opportunity of spending a brief time at the Anti-Saloon league convention. He says that about 5000 business and professional men of prominence attended the convention. He talked with men engaged in various lines of business and they all echoed the same sentiment that the liquor traffic must go for business and economic reasons.

New Orleans, La.--"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. THEN HE WANTED HIM BADLY

Sandy Realized the Need of Insurance When the "Fire Fiend" Got Down to Work.

The following story, the chief actor in which is still alive, would seem to justify the term "canny" sometimes applied to the Scot.

An old retired Fifehire farmer was from time to time called on and advised to insure his house against fire by an agent who was familiarly known as "Sandy."

The old man, however, met the agent's advances with "Na, na!" following by what he doubtless considered a clinching argument: "My hoose is no likely to gang on fire, mon!"

The unexpected, however, happened, and the neighbors were astonished to see the old man, instead of trying to put out the fire, running up and down the village street, shouting:

"Whaur's that man Sandy noo? Whaur's that insurance chap? It's terrible ye can never get a body when ye're needin' 'im!"

Dry Prospects.

One hundred years of continuous rainfall records have recently been completed in New Bedford, Mass., and serve to disprove thoroughly the common belief that the climate is not so good as it used to be. Only half as many dry periods occurred in the last fifty years as in the first fifty years; so that the records really are a warning for that section at least, to expect more dry periods in the next generation. The recent decades have been fortunate above the average, and consequently the next few decades are quite likely to pay the bill.

The records were started in 1814 by Samuel Rodman, and continued by him until his death, in 1876. His son then kept them until his death, in 1905. For more than ninety-one years the rainfall was carefully recorded for exactly the same spot in the same yard. The chief engineer of the state health department has now completed the hundred years of figures by obtaining the late records from another observer in New Bedford, taken a few miles from the Rodman place.

The average annual rainfall was 46 45 inches; but in the first fifty years there were four very marked dry periods of two or three years each. In the last fifty years there were only two such dry periods.—Saturday Evening Post.

Elopes With Corset Form.

After being placed under arrest by Private Policeman Mulvaney, a well-dressed man, who early in the morning broke a showcase window in the store of S. Hyman, and removed a corset form, broke away from the officer and escaped.

The man, who was slightly elated, stopped in front of the window for some time, and, evidently impressed by the beautiful model on which was placed one of the latest corsets, decided he wanted the figure. He broke the window with his fist and lifted the manikin out.—Cincinnati Dispatch to the New York Herald
